Contents

1. Powders

Powder coating technology (Invited Paper)
J.F. Hughes (Southampton, Great Britain) 3
Test rig for reproducible generation of discharges from bulked polymer granules
B. Maurer (Ludwigshaven, F.R.G.), M. Glor (Basel, Switzerland), G. Lüttgens (Leverkusen, F.R.G.) and L. Post (Frankfurt, F.R.G.) 25
Discharges from bulked polymeric granules during the filling of silos — Characterization by measurements and influencing factors
M. Glor (Basel, Switzerland), G. Lüttgens (Leverkusen, F.R.G.), B. Maurer (Ludwigshaven, F.R.G.) and L. Post (Frankfurt, F.R.G.) 35
Static electrification phenomena in pneumatic transportation of coal
M. Nifuku (Tsukuba, Japan), T. Ishikawa and T. Sasaki (Tokyo, Japan) 45
Measuring the charging tendency of polystyrene particles in pneumatic conveyance
A. Gajewski (Cracow, Poland) 55

2. Hazards

Electrostatic effects of charged steam jets
J. Finke (Magdeburg, G.D.R.) 69
On the pulse shape of discharge currents
A. Norberg (Uppsala, Sweden), N. Szedenik (Budapest, Hungary) and S. Lundquist (Uppsala, Sweden) 79
Examination of possible electrostatic hazards arising from the use of water spray barriers to disperse flammable vapours
P. Tolson (Buxton, Great Britain) 89
The avoidance of ignition hazards due to electrostatic charges occurring during the spraying of liquids under high pressure
L. Post (Frankfurt, F.R.G.), M. Glor (Basel, Switzerland), G. Lüttgens (Leverkusen, F.R.G.) and B. Maurer (Ludwigshaven,F.R.G.) 99
De-electrization of plastic products by increasing surface conductivity
B. Jachym, I. Witort and G. Wiśniewski (Gdansk, Poland) 111
Antistatic soft PVC materials for covering in building industry
T. Jandó, T. Stelczer and F. Farkas (Györ, Hungary) 117

Electrostatic safety in coal cartridge system
M. Nifuku (Tsukuba, Japan), T. Ishikawa, T. Sasaki (Tokyo, Japan) and E. Fujita (Nishinomiya, Japan) 127
Assessment of spark-free conditions for filling tanks with liquid hydrocarbons
B.K. Macksimov, A.A. Obukh, A.V. Tikhonov and V.A. Kapralov (Moscow, U.S.S.R.) 137

3. Applications

Electrical interactions occurring at electrostatic spraying targets (Invited Paper)
S.E. Law (Athens, GA, U.S.A.) 145
Experimental study on triboelectric charging of mineral particles
R. Ciccu, R. Peretti, A. Serci, M. Tamanini and A. Zucca (Cagliari, Italy) 157
The application of electrostatics in forensic science
G.L. Hearn and S. Singh (Southampton, Great Britain) 169
On the effect of DC bias voltage on ionic current and ozone production of surface discharge type ozonizer
E. Kiss (Dunaújváros, Hungary) and S. Masuda (Fukui, Japan) 179
Optimization of electrostatic powder spraying
I.P. Vereshchagin, G.S. Dogadin, V.V. Panjushkin and S.I. Khrenov (Moscow, U.S.S.R.) 189
Influence of the elemental composition of zircon and collophane minerals on their electrical conductivity
H.A. Ashry, F.A.S. Soliman and A.E. Khazbak (Cairo, Egypt) 197
The path of oscillation of dust particles in the field of the electric curtain of the plane type supplied with AC voltage
Z. Dudzicz (Tarnowskie Góry, Poland) 207
Short circuit thermally stimulated currents in monoelectret
Yu. Gorokhovatsky (Moscow, U.S.S.R.) 215
Charge storage and relaxation in $SrTiO_3$ and $KTaO_3$ crystals
Yu. Gorokhovatsky and Yu. Sezonov (Moscow, U.S.S.R.) 223
Electrostatic pneumatic sprayer of water solutions
A.M. Bologa and L.M. Makalsky (Moscow, U.S.S.R.) 227
Corona-electrostatic separators for recovery of waste non-ferrous metals
Al. Iuga, L. Dăscălescu, R. Morar (Cluj-Napoca, Romania), I. Csorvassy (Tîrgu Mureş, Romania) and V. Neamţu (Cluj-Napoca, Romania) 235

4. Measurements

Charge phenomena on technical boundary surfaces in air by DC-stress
P. Schmiegel and E. Lemke (Dresden, G.D.R.) 247
A new method for determination of the electrostatic ignition energy of powders
A. Norberg (Uppsala, Sweden) 257
Diagnostic testing to improve electrostatic powder coating
B. Makin (Dundee, Great Britain) 263
Dynamic qualities of electrometers
M. Anso, L. Kärner, M. Roos and O. Saks (Tartu, U.S.S.R.) 273
A method for aerosol particle charge measurements
A. Krupa and A. Jaworek (Gdansk, Poland) 283
High voltage measurements in electrostatic precipitator energizing circuit
M. Koralun (Gdansk, Poland) 293

5. Physics

Computation of the lightning stroke probability and the effectiveness of the air termination (Invited Paper)
T. Horváth (Budapest, Hungary) 305
The effects of electrohydrodynamic flow on a corona torch
J.-S. Chang (Hamilton, Ont., Canada) and I. Maezono (Tokuyama, Japan) 323
Charge decay on polymer surfaces
D.K. Das-Gupta (Bangor, Great Britain) 331
Neutralization of particle charge using unipolar and bipolar space charge
T.J. Williams and A.G. Bailey (Southampton, Great Britain) 341
Quantitative characteristics of back corona discharge intensity
I.P. Vereshchagin, V.A. Zhukov and A.V. Kalinin (Moscow, U.S.S.R.) 351
An automatic control system of atmospheric electricity
I.P. Vereshchagin, V.S. Morozov, I.I. Kyrylenko, G.Z. Mirzabekyan, A.V. Orlov and V.S Petukhov (Moscow, U.S.S.R.) 357
Airborne particle charging by unipolar ions in AC electric field
A. Jaworek and A. Krupa (Gdansk, Poland) 361
Modern methods for determination of aerosol sizes and concentrations
K.P. Koutzenogii (Novosibirsk, U.S.S.R.) 371
Separating discharges on electrified insulating sheet
X.G. Ji (Beijing, P.R. China), Y. Takahashi, Y. Komai and S. Kobayashi (Tokyo, Japan) 381

TSC measurements of sodium borosilicate glass irradiated with X-rays
E. Rysiakiewicz-Pasek (Wrocław, Poland) 391
Electrification properties of semiconductor and dielectric layers
L.S. Yourukova and K.M. Kolentsov (Sofia, Bulgaria) 395

6. Modelling

Finite element analysis of electrostatic quadrupole levitation system
B. Makin and D. Hu (Dundee, Great Britain) 403
Method of numerical investigation of volume concentration of charged pigment particles in the process of visualization of electrostatic images
V.E. Litvinov (Moscow, U.S.S.R.) 413
Numerical modelling of powder electrification in pneumatic transport
P.Z. Kolniak and R. Kuczynski (Wrocław, Poland) 421
A numerical simulation of non-stationary electrohydrodynamic processes in weakly conducting liquids
A.A. Vartanyan, V.V. Gogosov, V.A. Polyansky and G.A. Shaposhnikova (Moscow, U.S.S.R.) 431
On the problems of charge distribution on a conductor and the calculation of geometric factor of an emitting cathode
P.-L. Lee (Anshan, P.R. China) 441
Modelling of high-intensity electric fields — A method to improve the design of electrostatic separators
R. Morar, L. Dăscălescu and Al. Iuga (Cluj-Napoca, Romania) 445
Charged particle trajectories in electrostatic fields
Fl.T. Tanasescu, R. Cramariuc, I. Toma and I. Ionescu (Bucharest, Romania) 453
Mathematical model of electrostatic air spraying and some numerical results
A.F. Artamonov and I.P. Vereshchagin (Moscow, U.S.S.R.) 463
